Overview

Nauru, a serene island nation nestled in the heart of the Pacific Ocean, is celebrated for its distinctive charm and a tightly-knit community that treasures traditions and strong family bonds. Once famed for its rich phosphate reserves, Nauru is now dedicated to securing a prosperous future for its citizens through sustainable development initiatives.

The Nauru Economic and Climate Resilience Citizenship Program provides exceptional benefits in global mobility by offering an alternative, reliable passport with visa-free access to numerous sought-after destinations. These include some of the world's leading financial, educational, and business centers. Successful applicants can obtain a passport that enables safe travel to key economic hubs such as Hong Kong (SAR China), Singapore, South Korea, the UAE, and the UK, while simultaneously contributing to the island's infrastructure development, economic progress, climate resilience, and overall community well-being.

Procedure

We process the application and conduct thorough due diligence checks together with the government and independent, specialized firms. The government reviews each application, with the final decision taken by the cabinet. Once approved and the contribution is paid, citizenship documents are issued.
